Dear Friend,

Like a bad penny, the American Health Care Act keeps coming back. Leaders in the House of Representatives withdrew this dangerous legislation a few weeks ago, because there wasn't enough support to pass it. But now it's back, in an even more harmful form, and possibly heading for a vote in the House this week.

Quite simply, passage would be devastating for victims of domestic and sexual violence.

The American Health Care Act would repeal the Affordable Care Act and return us to the days when:

- Insurers denied coverage to survivors because they considered domestic violence a pre-existing condition;
- Victims of violence went without the health care they needed because coverage was too expensive or simply not available; and
- Screening and counseling for domestic violence were the exception, not the rule.

If, like me, you don't want to return to those times, please take a moment to contact your representative and urge a "no" vote on this damaging bill.

- CALL: Find your representative's phone number here: www.house.gov/representatives/find or call the Capitol Switchboard at (202) 225-3121.
- EMAIL: Fill out our Urgent Action Alert here, and we will automatically identify your representative and send an email for you!

Thank you for speaking out at this pivotal moment and for helping make the next generation safer and healthier!
