Dear Advocate,

Your calls and emails are working! The Senate has decided to delay the vote on their devastating healthcare bill, the Better Care Reconciliation Act (BCRA), until after the July 4th recess. Thank you for all your hard work to protect access to affordable, quality health care for survivors and others.

But we aren't done yet.

Members of Congress will head home to their districts from July 3 to July 10, and that is a perfect time to make it clear that the BCRA is unacceptable. As you know, this bill could put healthcare out of reach for over 20 million people, with a disproportionate impact on the most vulnerable, including survivors of domestic and sexual violence.

Please help keep up our momentum during this crucial time:

- Use this toll-free NEA number to call: (855) 764-1010. Just put in your zip code and you'll be connected to your Senator's staff. Tell whoever answers that you are a constituent and you oppose the BCRA.
- If you only have time to send your Senator an email, click here.

take action

- If you have time to do even more, look for a town hall during the July 4th recess (check your Senators' websites) and show up to voice your opposition to BCRA.

Tell Congress that access to affordable, comprehensive healthcare is essential for survivors and others.

Thank you for being a voice for survivors on this critical issue.

In peace and safety,
