

WE STAND IN SOLIDARITY
WITH THE LGBTQ COMMUNITY!

August 2, 2017

Dear Colleague,

A threat to one is a threat to all. The recent threats against the LGBTQ community are dangerous and irresponsible. White House threats to remove and disallow transgender people from serving their country, and filing a legal brief arguing against workplace discrimination protection for LGBTQ employees or prospective employees are direct and personal attacks on a specific community that cannot be ignored. A threat to one of us, is a threat to all of us. No one should be treated differently or have fewer rights or protections because of who they are. The rights that have been recognized by law and in policy must not be overturned. The LGBTQ community is not a burden, but a united front that we stand in solidarity with.

Resist. Connect. Defend. Protect.

These are our values. This is who we are.

In solidarity,
