

Violence and Gender

Editor-in-Chief: Mary Ellen O'Toole, PhD

Call for Papers on Transgender Violence

Deadline for manuscript submission: May 31, 2017

Violence and Gender is seeking high quality research on the topic of violence involving transgender individuals to publish in the winter issue of 2017. The issue will provide a broad overview of the current state of affairs on a national and international scale.

The journal will consider Research Articles, Reviews, Perspectives, and Commentaries on the on the following topics:

1. Transgender persons and self-harm
2. Transgender persons in other vulnerable populations (i.e. refugees or homeless persons)
3. Barriers to seeking help among transgender victims of violence
4. Hate crimes targeting transgender people
5. All topics related to violence against transgender individuals

Deadline for manuscript submission: May 31, 2017

Advantages of publishing in Violence and Gender include:

- Rapid, high-quality peer review
- Maximum exposure: accessible in 170 countries worldwide
- Open access options available

For manuscript submission guidelines and further information about the Journal, please visit the Violence and Gender website. We look forward to receiving your manuscripts and to your active participation in the Journal!

For questions, please contact Managing Editor Dr. Karen Cloud Hansen

SUBMIT TODAY