Facing kidnapping threats in India, Angie is worrying herself sick over the safety of her children.
Celeb product of the week: pepper spray!

Lindsay Lohan, Kelly Ripa and other stars have partnered with Pepperface.com to design blinged-out pepper-spray cans. They’re slightly larger than a lipstick and pack a mean punch to would-be attackers. The Swarovski crystal-encrusted cans will be auctioned off on Pepperface.com from now until Oct. 31; proceeds benefit the National Center on Domestic and Sexual Violence.

Lindsay Lohan’s can is adorned with “La Bella Vita,” just like her tattoo!

“I love Pepperface. I think every woman should have one,” says Jaime Pressley.

Kelly Ripa decorated her canister with a martini glass.
